

styled spiritual guru, whose real name is Asumal Surumalani, and also rejected his plea for stay in his Delhi ashram during his visit for the check-up.

The Apex Court also brushed aside his plea to restrain the media from reporting the court proceedings. "No, we cannot. Why should we gag them? What is there in this", the bench asked taking a dim view on the Godman's plea against the media.

His medical examination was ordered on August 11 when he had moved the court seeking interim bail so that he could travel to Kerala for Panchkarma Ayurveda treatment.

Shah Geelani, for recording his statement in connection with a Preliminary Enquiry registered by the probe agency.

The National Investigation Agency (NIA) issued summons to Geelani for appearance at its Srinagar sub-office, official sources said on Monday. The case pertains to a PE registered by the NIA to probe flow of funds into various bank accounts from overseas which in turn is allegedly being used for anti-national activities in the Valley.

The hardline faction of Hurriyat Conference led by Geelani issued a statement terming the questioning of its leaders as an act of "terrifying and maligning" the family of its leader. "After harassing and questioning Mohammad Ashraf Sehraie, Peer Saifullah, Altaf Ahmad Shah and Ayaz Akbar during their detention, Geelani's elder son Dr Naeem Geelani has been issued a notice by the NIA to report to its interrogation centre in Shivpora for questioning," it said in a statement in Srinagar.

The amalgam termed it as a 'childish' attempt by the Centre to curb "mass uprising" in the Valley. The statement claimed that NIA has been given the task to drag these "fabricated cases" to Delhi to "pressurize the separatist leadership". However, NIA said the allegations levelled against the probe agency were totally baseless and that the agency was probing a legitimate case where funds were being received in the state and diverted towards terrorism and anti-national activities. -PTI is in favour of changing the name of the state.

However, Mamata Banerjee said that the Union Government has informed the state government that they should not consider an earlier resolution adopted by the Assembly on the issue and the state government should send a fresh proposal to them. The state government would urge the Union Government to pass the resolution through the Parliament.
